

My father was in the Army, so I grew up living in many different places, but have always thought of Southern Idaho as "home".

In October 2009 I moved from Ft Worth, Texas to Jerome to be closer to my grandparents. I began to look for a career that would be exciting and still allow me to help others. My mother, an experienced optician in Alabama, encouraged me to consider following in her footsteps. In the spring of 2010 I decided to take the leap. By that summer I was sure that this was the career that I wanted to pursue for the rest of my life. Shortly thereafter I was welcomed into the Ann's Eyewear Boutique family. In January of 2012, I became a Certified Dispensing Optician.

At Ann's Eyewear Boutique I am constantly refining my skills so that I can offer expert advice when choosing frames and lenses. I am excited that the technology we have is the most up to date available in the industry. I love working within Ann's Eyewear Boutique philosophy, allowing me the privilege of getting to know each customer personally.
